The revival at Fifth-street Methodist church continues with unabated interest. The transfer system on the Perry-street and Hull-street lines is an exceedingly bad and Hull street lines is an exceedingly bad strangement. Transfers are only made at Seventh and Perry streets, and then by the sets. The drivers of the horse-cars and the conductors on the electric cars have to punch each of these tickets twice. Should two cars meet at the transfer point and a half dozen passengers from each car desired transfers to the other, it would delay both cars several papers in it would delay both cars several minutes in order to furnish the passengers with the ne-cess ry perforated pieces of paper. Should the weather happen to be disagreeably cold or wet and the drivers' fingers benumbed and still the delay would, of course, he longer. There was another large crowd at the Bainbridge-street church last evening to see the second illustrated sermon on the Wise and Foolish Virgins. The first picture was entitled "Went to buy oil" and represented the five foolish virgins going to the city to buy oil. The second picture, "They that were ready went on with him," showed the bridegroom entering the hall followed by the five wise virgins. The third and last picture, "And the door was shit," presented the foolish virgins kneeling at the door begging for admittance. The pictures are very pretty indeed, and the pastor in describing them gave a very interesting and instructive lecture.

Library Day Will Be Observed Next Friday at the Richmond Female Institute.

"Library Day" will be observed next Friday at the Richmond Female Institute. The object is to increase the library, for doubtless there are many books in private libraries that can well be spared and which would be of real service to the institute. It is to be hoved that the friends and patrons of the institute will during the day send what books they can and in the evening they are invited to the book reception, which will be held between 8 and 10 o'clock. The president and faculty will also receive their friends.

During the evening Nev. 1r. Moses D. Hoge will deliver an appropriate address. Though this is one of the busiest weeks in his life, he has consented to do this for the sake of an institution in which the citizens of Richmond should feel especially interested. Dr. Nelson, president of the Institute, has

Dr. Nelson, president of the Institute, has heard a number of famous divines of the old world, including Spurgeon, Archdeacon Farrar, Canons Liddon and Farker, and regards Dr. Hoge as one of the greatest he has ever had the pleasure of hearing. After the address there will be songs by Captain Frank Cunningham and others and an enjoyable time is anticipated.

OYSTERS AT THE FAIR.

A Very Remarkable Exhibit, But It Was Shown to Poor Advantage.

One of the most remarkable exhibits made at our late Fair was not brought to public attention because of the delay in its arrival and no premium being offered. The exhibit re-ferred to was a splendid display of all the different kinds and classes of ovsters in Vir-ginia waters surrounding Hampton Koads, consisting of twenty-five families and numerous varieties.

Could the exhibit have been what it was incould the exhibit, have been what it was in-tended to be it would have served as a splendid object lesson in the important oyster question of this State, but owing to the delay en route and no arrangement having been made for their proper care and protection, they could be shown to very little advantage.

The collection was magnificent, and included specimens of natural rock and bed oysters from Lynhaven, Cherry Creek, Hampton and other famous oyster grounds, and the difference in the varieties shown, when explained to the uninitiated, was most interesting. J. L. Babcock, of Princess Anne, who had this exhibit in charge, is now making preparation to make an exhibit of the fish and wild fowls of the State at the Columbian Exhibition at Chicago in 1893

From his skill and success as a pomologist shown at the American Pomological Exposition there is no doubt that this great resource of Virginia will be properly shown to the world for the first time.

A FUGITIVE BROUGHT BACK.

Wayman Sutton, Charged with Murder, Captured in Lincoln County, Washington.

Messrs, Gaines and Barksdale, who went to the State of Washington after Wayman Sutton, the Wythe county murderer, bave returned with their prisoner. They were accompanied by Sherid Fish, of Lancoln county, who arrested the fugitive. Sutton was odged in the Lynchburg jail.

Peter Hawell, a respected citizen of Wythe county, was foully murdered from ambush early in 1887, and Sutton and Morgan Pendleton were charged with the crime, Sutton escaped to Washington State and settled there more than a year ago. He was a painter and soon obtained employment. Sheriff Fish had a description of the murderer and soon identified him, Sheriff Fish is here now in order to secure the reward which was offered by Governor Lee at the time of Sutton's escape. It is claimed that Governor Lee offered $1,000. reward and that when Governor McKinney came into office he made the reward $ 50 but at the Capitol yesterday nothing was found save a reward of $100, which was offered by Governor Lee on August 12, 1887.

JUSTICE JOHN'S COURT.

There Were Those Who Knew All About the Election-Country Life in the City. Spectators at the court yesterday were as scarce as men who did not know all abou how the election was going to turn out, and the morning business was disposed of as rapidly as a meal at a railroad restaurant. A few of the regulars and half a dozen officers lingered awhile and swapped a few lies with each other about the returns. This is a great country, and every day one grows more impressed with the wonderful sagacity of our pressed. pressed with the wonderful sagacity of our people. Two days ago and you could find comparatively few men who knew there was an election to be held outside of New York and Ohio, but yesterday a field-glass a yard and a half long would not have brought to sight a single soul who did not know a week ago of the strength of the Alliance movement in Nebraska or the people's party in lows. She thanked him kindly for the invitation of the colored archer and the colored archer and the colored archer arche and expressed a desire to accept the same if possible, promising that Miss Winne should represent her it she was unable to come. Miss Winnie Davis charms all who come in her presence with her lovely face and thoroughbred graceful manners. For her own sake she is very popular, and as the daughter of the Confederacy she is held in the affectionate regard of the entire city.

At the appointed hour last evening the committee of the Lavis Monument Association called on Mrs. Davis to confer with her in regard to the monument and sepulture for her husband. The committee was composed of Mayor allyson, General Peyton Wise. onel John B. Cary, D. C. Richardson, P. H. Mayo, John S. Ellett, P. T. Campbell and W. D. Chesterman. They found General Anderson, who is also a member of the com-mittee, and Mrs. Pavis in the parior and had an hour or more of pleasant conversation.

The committee went to the conference with the desire not to make any suggestions, but to defer entirely to the wishes of Mrs. Davis in the matter, while on the other hand they found that she expected suggestions from them. During the conversation a number of locations for the erection of the monument were discussed, including Chimborazo Park, Capitol Square, Monroe Park, the Allen lot, at the corner of Fifth and Main streets. and several spots in the western portion of the city in the direction of the Confederate Soldiers' Home. Mrs. Davis made no selec tion of any of the locations of ered, but indicated that she preferred that the remains of her husband and family should lie in Hollywood and the proposed monument be erect-ed elsewnere.

When the conference closed no determina-

How the Worm is Produced That Doeth the Mischief.

Editor of The Times: In a late issue of your paper I notice you made some allusions to the strange and unaccountable destruction of pine forests in different sections of the State. The pine timber killed as a general thing, is not val-uable, and the killing is done by small worms. A very small back bug deposits its eggs (thicker than fiddlers in Lunenburg between the bark and the wood of the pine which maket; the worm that doeth the mischief. Hundreds of acres of old-field pines have been killed this season in this county. If the bugs do not attack our woods pines they may 'chaw" as much as they please on the others.

Perhaps it would be impossible to prove that our stock of Black Dress Goods is unmatched in Richmond. but we think it is in the lead in variety, in quality, in all that makes Black Dress Stuff's most desirable. Prices we know are about as low as anywhere --- very likely lower. Only the goods of foremost makers! that's the start. No groping in the dark. No experimenting that you are likely to be the victim of. Knowing what is right and getting it are what make our great Black Dress Goods stock so peerless we tell of to-day. Nothing but all-wool and silk and wool materials in jet positive blacks. There are :

Merino. Camel's Hair. Challies, : Serge. Cheviot. Crepe Cloth. Diagonals. Nun's Serge. Drap d'Alma. Bedford Cords.
